Greater Edwards Aquifer Alliance Calls for Moratorium on Development within the Camp Bullis Buffer Zone

When: Wednesday, July 8th at 2:00 pm (Agenda Item TBA)

Where: Cliff Morton Development and Business Services Center, Board Room,
1st Floor, 1901 S. Alamo

What: City of San Antonio Planning Commission will consider application for 335 acre Palmira Subdivision Planned Unit Development (PUD). This tract is within the buffer zone of Camp Bullis approximately three miles west of Camp Bullis on Scenic Loop Rd.

Much has been made of the City's efforts to regulate development going in near Camp Bullis in a manner consistent with the Army's needs. On June 18th, the City Council passed a resolution to accept the Camp Bullis Joint Land Use Study (JLUS) and endorse and support the strategies it recommends.

An empty gesture?

Meanwhile, large developments such as Palmira, which have not complied with the recommendations of the JLUS or comments by the Army, continue to be considered and approved. We are told by City Planning staff that in August City Council will consider moving forward with ordinances to enforce the recommendations of the JLUS. No timeline for when these ordinances would be actually be considered for approval was available. City Planning Department staff and Planning Commissioners tell us that as long as an application for development meets current City requirements, it must be approved. How much of the undeveloped land within the Camp Bullis Buffer Zone will be approved for development in the interim?

At issue in the Palmira tract is the developer's failure to submit wildlife surveys to the US Fish and Wildlife Service, as specifically recommended by the JLUS. A 2001 ground estimant by Dr. David Diamond shows portions of this tract to be prime habitat for the Golden Cheeked Warbler; a small part of the tract may also contain karst features that are habitat for endangered cave invertebrates. Approximately 420 new homes are planned for this tract, which is currently bordered by ranches and large acre lots.

GEAA is calling on all San Antonio citizens to contact members of the Planning Commission to request that this item be pulled from the agenda until such time as the City Council passes ordinances consistent with the JLUS recommendations. Further, we call on the City to institute a moratorium on consideration of all applications for development within the five mile buffer zone of Camp Bullis until such time as ordinances consistent with the JLUS recommendations are approved.

The Greater Edwards Aquifer Alliance unites 45 organizations from throughout the Edwards Region behind a comprehensive plan to protect the Edwards and Trinity aquifers, their springs and watersheds, flora and fauna, and the Texas Hill Country.
